

What are the 18 propaganda techniques?

Answer (EN)

The paper defines an inventory of 18 propagandist techniques (arXiv:1910.09982):

1. Loaded language —words/phrases with strong emotional implications to influence the audience
2. Name calling or labeling —labeling the object as something the audience fears, hates, or praises
3. Repetition —repeating the same message so the audience eventually accepts it
4. Exaggeration or minimization —presenting something as larger/better/worse or less important than it is
5. Doubt —questioning the credibility of someone or something
6. Appeal to fear/prejudice —instilling anxiety/panic toward an alternative, possibly based on preconceived judgments
7. Flag-waving —playing on strong national or group feeling to justify an action or idea
8. Causal oversimplification —assuming one cause (incl. scapegoating) where multiple exist
9. Slogans —brief, striking phrases acting as emotional appeals
10. Appeal to authority —claiming something is true because an authority/expert supports it
11. Black-and-white fallacy, dictatorship —presenting two options as the only possibilities
12. Thought-terminating cliché —short, generic phrases discouraging critical thought
13. Whataboutism —charging the opponent with hypocrisy without disproving their argument
14. Reductio ad Hitlerum —disapproval by associating an idea with hated groups
15. Red herring —introducing irrelevant material to divert attention
16. Bandwagon —persuading because “everyone else is taking the same action”
17. Obfuscation, intentional vagueness, confusion —deliberately unclear words
18. Straw man —substituting the opponent’s proposition with a similar one and refuting it
